GAMES

We are sure this year's games will maintain the high standard that Kapcon is known for. Among the games presented for your enjoyment this year are :
 From SDC winner, Matt Cowens, The Villain Wore Black, described as a Victorian penny dreadful, Vogel Award-winning author Dale Elvy's Mutant's and Masterminds game The High Price of Spandex. Also using M&M is Luke Walker's Nocturnals: The Dark Forever - an adaptation of the graphic novel. We also have Zak Clark's day-time soap opera "It Took Five to Tango, and One to Limbo.", Andrew McLeod's Californian mob story Murder Inc, Mike Sands' Culture Clash as trolls meet humans in HeroQuest. James Plunket gives us a fun anime romp Beautiful Teenage War Engine Aikiko , and Nick Pitt continues the theme with Samurai Pizza Cats in Big Trouble in Little Tokyo. Michael Foster provides Sherwood Forest and Emerald Isle, new episodes in the lives of Don & the Boys. We'll also have the usual Living Greyhawk and other officially sanctioned d20 games from the RPGA.

THE BIG 10-4

Years after the apocalypse, a motley collection of survivors, mutants, bikers and refugees happen to turn up at Angry Joe's 10-4 Good Buddy Truckstop on the wings of an atomic sandstorm. Perhaps everyone will be happy to spend the evening having a friendly drink, while the storm rages. But some of them have ulterior motives, plans to rebuild civilization or old scores to settle. To add some extra spice to the evening, the World Famous 10-4 Gladiatorial Championship is also scheduled. Characters will be recognizable from a wide selection of quality post-apocalyptic literature and cinema. Go to our website for more details.
